The purpose of this research is to study information using behavior and problems in search process for term paper of undergraduate students of Faculty of Associated Medical Sciences, Khon Kaen University. Questionnaires were used to gather data. The findings indicate that term paper of students in Medical technology and in Physiotherapy were studied in laboratory 69.42% and both of them had a project from their advisors at the highest level 65.43%). They searched through internet 35.80% and consulted their advisors 49.35%). They used Thai journal/English Journal (37.03%) and searched through internet at the highest level 35.80%). Both of them had no Knowledge of how to search for needed information through multimedia at the highest level (35.80%).